'The global electronic warfare conference and exhibition'

Attending Electronic Warfare 2011 will enable you to discover the technological advances and developments from leading international manufacturers and suppliers, taking place across this market. This prestigious event offers an unrivalled opportunity for international leaders in EW at all levels from across the armed forces, government, industry, technology and academia, to meet to shape the future of EW and share their experiences.

We are interested in papers covering land, maritime, air/space and EM environments. Particularly valuable will be papers detailing operational experience and technological developments on the battlefield.

A limited number of speaking slots will be available and an advisory panel led by the Shephard Group EW Consultant, John Clifford OBE, will decide which papers are presented.

If you would like to submit a paper for consideration, please email md@shephard.co.uk

Deadlines for submission: 31 January 2011

Please note: Presentations must be a maximum of 20 minutes

I am interested in submitting a paper.
