

We are delighted that this year Face UP TV will be exclusively filming the Electronic Warfare 2010. The film will review all the major UK and International manufacturers and suppliers, interview key organisations and see what's up and coming for the coming year. The film will be free to watch on the Show website immediately after the event for the next 12 months.

For a nominal fee the camera crews are happy to make a 3-4 minute video of your company at the Show which can be embedded onto your website and may be included in the main film of the show.
