Conference & Exhibition
16-18 November 2010

Olympia Conference Centre, London, UK

Call for papers

'The world's leading military helicopter conference and exhibition.'

Attending Heli-Power 2010 will enable you to discover the technological advances and developments taking place across international helicopter community, and identify the issues involved with procurement, training, operations and technology. Heli-Power 2010 will offer an unrivalled chance to meet military helicopter operators, maintainers as well as suppliers and manufacturers of equipment to develop new business contacts, leads and opportunities.

We are interested in papers covering helicopter platforms, weapon systems and ISTAR, new technologies, operational requirements and increased capabilities needed to dominate the modern battlefield in demanding situations around the world. Particularly valuable will be papers detailing operational experience and tactical developments on the battlefield.

If you would like to submit a paper for consideration, please email hab@shephard.co.uk

Deadlines for submission: 10 May 2010
